CONTROLLED ECONOMIC EVOLUTION

Pole Kinetics and The Non-Random Transformation of Modern Formations

Theo Reks and Endre BirichDescription

Every nation strives to build a creative, innovative economy, yet only a few achieve a genuine economic breakthrough. This is why such successes are called 'economic miracles'. This book argues that there are no miracles: success depends on how a country's social institutions are configured. It offers a step-by-step plan for setting them up effectively. Economic development does not have to be left to intuition or chance — it can be managed.

UNDISCIPLINED: OF ARCHITECTURAL NOMADISM AND THE REBELLIOUS PRACTICE

Eduardo Kairuz

Description

'Undisciplined' is concerned with questions of the transformative effects of crisis in architecture as a discipline. Framing the discussion with narratives that immerse the reader in spaces overshadowed by conflict, 'Undisciplined' posits an unorthodox form of architectural production engaged with the contingent elaboration of new and increasingly necessary spatial narratives.

ICONOCLASM IN THE PUBLIC SQUARE

Paul Hardin Kapp

Description

This book is the first theory-informed work in architectural conservation and historic preservation to examine the discordance among the public over controversial historic monuments in the historic landscape and how it should be addressed. It challenges architects, landscape architects, conservationists, preservationists, elected officials and the public to reconsider the public square and whether or not civic art that memorialises is still relevant or a practice that can be reimagined.

CRAFTING REVISION IN CREATIVE NONFICTION

One Word Clarifies the Truth

Ryan ThorpeDescription

Creative nonfiction combines the accuracy of fact with the artistry of storytelling. This book shows how small writing choices, including the selection of a single word, can shape the truth on the page. Writers will learn techniques for crafting vivid scenes, structuring narratives and revising for emotional and factual depth. Drawing on real examples and flexible exercises, it encourages exploration of memory, research and observation while maintaining honesty and creative control. Perfect for courses in nonfiction or for independent writers, it offers a practical path to creating work that is both compelling to read and faithful to lived experience.

CRAFTING REVISION IN ACADEMIC WRITING

One Word Strengthens an Argument

Ryan ThorpeDescription

Academic writing is built on choices, and even a single word can change the strength and direction of an argument. This book helps students move beyond formulas, showing how to draft with purpose, revise for clarity and build credible, well-supported claims. Through real examples, practical exercises and clear explanations, it guides writers from research planning to sentence-level refinement. Suitable for both classroom use and independent study, it turns the process of writing academic essays into an engaging practice that develops critical thinking and precision, giving students the tools to succeed across disciplines and in real-world communication.

INDUSTRIAL REGIONS BETWEEN HERITAGE AND DESTRUCTION

Interdisciplinary Perspectives on the Donbas, Upper Silesia and Beyond

Edited by Alina Strzempa and Oleksandr Zabirko

Description

This volume explores shifting identities in Europe's industrial regions – primarily Upper Silesia and the Donbas – by challenging modernist and nationalist narratives. It unites scholars across disciplines to examine transitions shaped by gender, heritage, migration, memory and more, fostering interdisciplinary insight into cultural change in historical borderland industrial spaces.

JOYCEAN POSSIBILITIES

Now in Paperback

A Margot Norris Legacy

Edited by Joseph Valente, Vicki Mahaffey and Kezia Whiting

Description

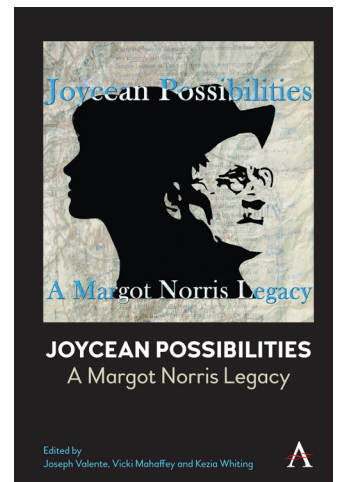

Inspired by the work of Margot Norris, this volume takes up her theme of how James Joyce's works open up a host of new possibilities: for interpretation, for stylistic 'iridescence' for narrative, for other possible worlds, and for gender equality.

Eyewitness Accounts of Ireland's Great Famine

Liam Kennedy, Donald M. MacRaild, Lewis Darwen and Brian Gurrin

Description

The Great Irish Famine claimed the lives of one million people, mainly from the lower classes. In recent decades, its history has become the focus of considerable scholarly and popular attention, but much remains to be retrieved and reconstructed, particularly at the level of the rural poor. This book fills that gap.

BECOMING-INTO-OTHERS (BIO)

An Interdisciplinary Approach to Problems Concerning Life

Ana Laura Arellano Zamudio, Jorge Vélez Vega and David Arellano GaultDescription

As the world faces escalating species extinction, increasing urbanisation and widespread pollution, this book advocates for a new paradigm of coexistence, 'becoming into others' (BIO). It calls for rethinking connections to enhance cohabitation among all life forms, expanding our ontological framework to embrace the emergence of 'others coming into being'.

IRON PYRITE

Reflections on Kripkean Themes

Hanoch Ben-YamiDescription

The book criticises Kripkean ideas, for instance, the rigidity of names, the causal theory of names, the necessity of identity and of origin, the nature of fictional characters and the approach to the liar paradox. It develops an alternative view on logic, language and philosophy, close to Wittgenstein's.

INSIDE INFLUENCE

The Psychology of Power in Human Life

Carsten C. SchermulyDescription

The book, 'Inside Influence: The Psychology of Power in Human Life' explores why people grant power to a few sometime authoritarian leaders and how power psychologically transforms those who hold it. Drawing on research, he shows how power can distort judgement, empathy and behaviour, and argues for understanding its mechanisms to use it more responsibly through better structures, selection and psychological empowerment.

THE POLITICS OF BELONGING IN ALGERIAN ART

Denis Martinez's 7 Murs Revistés, 1989

Cynthia J. Becker

Description

This book examines how Algerian artist Denis Martinez, particularly through 7 murs revisités (1989), drew on Amazigh art and other marginalised visual forms to articulate alternative forms of belonging in postcolonial Algeria. By integrating these traditions into modern painting, Martinez challenged nationalist frameworks and reimagined Algerian art as a practice of cultural recognition and inclusion.

CRITICAL LESSONS IN INTERCULTURALITY

Failing Better

Fred DervinDescription

'Critical Lessons in Interculturality: Failing Better' argues that our obsession with intercultural success is limiting. This book proposes a paradigm shift, urging us to see failure not as an endpoint, but as a rich, essential site for critical learning and a more realistic understanding of human interaction.
